RIOT LEADS TO 4 DEATHS UPON JURY'S FINDINGS

Stores Robbed of Guns and Many Shot
When Murderer Was Removed

(By Associated Press)
Lexington, Ky., Feb. 9.—What Lockett, negro, was convicted today of assault and murder of Geneva Hardman, 19 year old school girl, and was sentenced to be electrocuted March 11th. Several persons were wounded, some reported killed when troops fired on a crowd. Fifty men stormed the court house door with a rifle. Lockett was caught here on a special train from his State penitentiary at Frankfort where he was rushed on February 4th shortly after he made an alleged confession to prevent a lynching. Heavy wires and ropes had been stretched on either side of each street through which Lockett passed and troops were under orders to "shoot to kill" if any attempt was made to reach the prisoner. Fifty extra police and a sheriff's guard patrolled the streets to keep the crowds behind the ropes. No one was permitted to enter the court house without first being searched for weapons.

while the authorities managed to slip the negro away to a place of safety. Great excitement was caused by the shooting and there were mutterings of further trouble. In addition to the four persons killed, 19 persons were injured when the troops fired into the mob. Four hundred troops from Camp Taylor, Ky., have been ordered to Lexington to prevent any further trouble and are now en route here. Officially announced the additional troops were requested as it was feared that the 300 militia men could not handle the situation.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 9.—Reports received here by telephone during the forenoon state mobs then were looting china stores and hardware stores at Lexington in an effort to obtain fire-arms and had declared the intention of securing the negro by any means. On the heels of the report came an appeal from the Governor for troops to protect the negro and quiet the situation.

Four persons were killed and several injured here today when a mob intent upon lynching Wm. Lockett, a negro, who had confessed to the murder of ten year old Geneva Hardman, at the court house during Lockett's trial, was fired upon by police and state troops. While the mob, the ringleaders of which carried a rope, was attempting to get into the court house, and get Lockett, the jury found him guilty of murder and a minute or two later the negro was sentenced to die in the electric chair on March 11th. Two women were reported to be among those shot by the State troops. The clash with the soldiers held off the mob.

ORGANIZED LABOR THROWS HAT INTO THE RING

American Federation of Labor
Announces the Creation of Non-Partisan Committee.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 8.—Organized labor threw its hat into the political ring, vigorously denouncing Congress for its failure to pass labor legislation, the American Federation of Labor today announced the appointment of a non-partisan committee who will mobilize all labor unions and all "lovers of liberty" and will seek to defeat all of the proposals of labor and progressive legislation. Not waiting for the November campaign they will start work at once in the primaries and all parties for office from the President down will have their records analyzed and given the widest publicity if they are opposed to organized labor.

President William C. Clegg, Secretary Frank Morrison and James O'Connell, president of the Metal Trades Union, were appointed an executive committee to make up a committee and four women will be on this committee. A national crisis threatens the free institution of the country by the reactionary Congress, makes it necessary it is announced in a circular to join the bi-partisan committee shortly to that used in 1905.

The circular will be sent to all labor unions and their friends to all friends of organized labor.

FORE RIVER DRILLERS WIN MINIMUM ACCIDENT CUP

Quincy, Feb. 8.—The silver, "safest drill" cup, offered by the management of the Fore River plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation to the department having the least number of reported accidents between June 1 and Nov. 30 was awarded last night to the S. E. Department by the drillers of the yard. The presentation was made at an Accident Prevention meeting in the Quincy Theatre which was attended by a great gathering of Fore River men. The cup was awarded by Gen. M. F. Wiley Whitman, who commended the men on their efforts to reduce the number of accidents in the yard. Addresses were also made by William H.

Benson, superintendent of hull construction; Harry E. Gould, superintendent of machinery, and Victor T. Noonan, director of accident prevention.

There were vocal selections by the Fore River Glee Club and musical selections by the Fore River Band. There was an exhibition of safety first moving pictures and a reel showing the destruction of merchant shipping by the German U-boat No. 35.

In addition to the silver cup which was presented to the S. E. Department, the members of the Ship Safety Committee, who helped make the campaign a success, were given safety watch fobs.

JURY CENSURES GRAIN OPERATOR

Finds U. S. Grain Corporation Man "Used" His Office.

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 8.—Jury that Max H. Houser of Portland, Ore., by reason of his connection with the United States Grain Corporation, has been able to manipulate and operate grain companies which he formerly owned "to an immense profit to himself and associates" in violation of the findings of a U. S. grand jury returned yesterday. Houser is vice-president of the U. S. Grain Corporation for the northwest.

Grain companies of the Northwest, the grand jury found, were "allowed to close their mills and ship the grain to eastern points in case action is taken to force them to sell their holdings at the prices paid them, plus a manipulative carrying charge. The report continues:

"To facilitate any concerted plan of operation we would urge the department of justice to take simultaneous action in all wheat and flour centers of the United States."

Opposing the proposed plan to provide a fund of $150,000,000 for emergency relief, the grand jury declares that the plan is intended to provide for the purchase of wheat "now owned largely by speculators and in some cases by individuals directly and indirectly connected with some of the officers of the United States Grain Corporation."

WIFE WANTS ARMY TO GET HUSBAND

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 8.—"When I was in the Army I always knew where he was and didn't worry about him,"

FROM FORTY-FIVE TO SIXTY

A Word of Help to Women of Middle Age From Mrs. Raney.

Morse, Okla.—"When I was 45 years old Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound carried me through the critical period of the change of life in safety. I am over 60 and have raised a family of eight children and am in fine health. My daughter and daughters-in-law recommend your Vegetable Compound and I still take it occasionally myself. You are at liberty to use my name if you wish."

—Mrs. ALICE RANEY, Morse, Oklahoma.

Change of life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. This good old-fashioned root and herb remedy may be relied upon to overcome the distressing symptoms which accompany it and women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to cure women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Now that he's in the Army, I can't keep track of him any more. I got him for your old Army outfit. So wrote a woman in Omaha County, Neb., to Colonel Kemper, the recruiting officer here.

A recruit's a recruit and recruiting is the colonel's business but he just couldn't find a place for Bill in the new democratic peace-time Army. It isn't just kind of an Army these days.

So, William Henry Harris, the most interested party, who wasn't consulted at all by either wife or recruiting officer, will have to remain on the inactive list of the "Husbands' Reserve Corps."

VALDERLIP STIRS WOMEN'S CLUBS

Deplores Invasion of Industry by Sex.

New York, Feb. 8.—Frank A. Valderlip, former president of the National City Bank of New York, provided material for a lively debate at the semi-annual dinner of the New York State division of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs last night, when he deplored the invasion of industry by women workers. He declared it made "his heart ache to see as a result of the war, so many women in factories."

"I don't think it a happy tendency," he added, "not from the point of industry, but from the point of society in general. Furthermore I am sorry to see that grasp after quality by women. There is a large aspect for the influence of women."

Miss Clara Laughlin, national president of the organization, a great delight of the dinner answered Mr. Valderlip, asserting that history proves that "work of any kind belongs to the one that can best do it." She said women were "first in industry."

try upon which our civilization was established, and as a woman were first in industry. They should have their choice in industry."

She protested against the limitations of hours of employment for women, declaring it handicapped them in their competition for work with men.

OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR ARMENIAN RELIEF

A mass meeting for the opening of the campaign for Armenian relief was held at the North Church on Sunday evening with an attendance of 350, but while the attendance owing to the bad traveling was poor, it did not lack in enthusiasm and this small audience pledged more than half of Portsmouth's quota.

Mr. E. Curtis Matthews chairman of the Campaign Committee presided and the principal speaker was Mr. Brewster Brady, who is well-known here. He is a powerful and interesting speaker and he painted a word picture of the untold suffering of the people of the Near East and especially the long suffering and patient Armenians, which moved everybody. He told of the ravages of the Turks during the war and how that the dawn of the day they have hoped and prayed for years was breaking, starvation and its kindred diseases were making great inroads into the remaining few of the once great Near East nation so that the absolute extermination of the race that which he said there had long sought to bring about was feared. In no other way can the million be saved but as well as young, have by the generosity of the people of America.

Mrs. L. H. Thayer, the original organizer of the South "Coffee" Unit, which is now doing such splendid work in Armenia, spoke of their work and she read abstracts from letters from her son Ellsworth, who is now with the relief committee in the stricken country, giving first hand information of the great distress that rested on the country and of the great need of speedy relief if they are to be saved from starvation.

At the conclusion pledge cards were signed and a total of $1760 was subscribed. The local quota is $2500 and it is hoped that the city will greatly exceed its quota.

NORWAY AND U. S. SHIPPING BOOMS.

(By Associated Press)

Christiana, Feb. 8.—Norway's mercantile shipping business with the U. S. has received a big impetus since the war by reason of the fact that European markets are no longer able to supply the country's needs. New York and other American ports are now taking the place of Hamburg and London as the principal outlet for the overseas trade of the Scandinavian countries. Moreover, a great many export firms have established branches and agencies in Norway.

CREW OF LIFE BOAT GIVEN UP FOR LOST

(By Associated Press)
Rockville, Me., Feb. 8.—No trace of the 11 men from the crew of the steamer or Polaris who left the steamer in a life boat, which the steamer struck last Friday night, has been found. It is fairly well established that part of the life boat equipment found on Monhegan Island, is from a life boat of the Polaris, but whether from the one the men were in or another washed off when the steamer struck is not known.

LENS WILL NOT PRODUCE COAL FOR YEARS

Paris, Feb. 8.—Although all possible efforts to reconstruct the war-shattered mines of Lens have been and are being made there is now no hope that production of coal will be extricated before 1921. In fact, the lack of bringing back Lens to its former prosperity is so immense that it is not expected that the town and its mines will return to anything like their former status before 1928 or 1929.

Provided that the work can be carried on without interruption, it will take at least 1929 to clear the underground workings of the debris with which they were choked by the Germans. Most of the workings, and all the deeper ones, are flooded.

A plan for drawing off the water has been arranged. The reconstruction and repairs of the tubbing will be carried out by German workmen, and the cement for the purpose will be brought from Germany. The pumping out of the mines is expected to take at least three years. It is hoped that by next year it will be possible to extract coal from the first galleries, which are only 400 feet deep but it is not expected that the water will be pumped out of the lower workings, which run down to 2,250 yards, until 1923 or even 1924.

The railways in the Lens district will not be completely repaired till 1921. Of the 800 workmen's dwellings belonging to the Miners' Society, not a hundred can be repaired. Four hundred concrete huts are to be built in which it is hoped to house the 5,000 workers who will be employed in the clearing of the pits for the next two or three years.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 8.—The treaty of Versailles which has lain in the political pigeon hole since Nov. 19, while attempting to secure compromises were unsuccessfully sought by the leaders of both parties, will be formally brought before the Senate tomorrow. Although prompt agreement is expected on many of the points at issue, a long and bitter fight is expected over article ten and a few more of the more important points. Leaders of both sides see hopes of ratification but there are senators who state that here will be no agreement on the treaty but that it will drag along into the campaign.

Portsmouth, N. H., Monday, February 9, 1920.

Attorney General Palmer Is Right.

While there are differences of opinion as to methods of procedure against radicalism there is general agreement that there are dangerous elements and dangerous conditions in the country, and that steps must be taken to effectually suppress the propaganda against orderly government and the individuals and cliques who are responsible for the dangerous agitation.

Attorney General Palmer in addressing the House judiciary committee a few days ago expressed ideas that will undoubtedly strike the majority of people favorably. Mr. Palmer does not want to go so far as to restrict anybody's rights, but believes that action must be taken which will show that the government is in earnest in protecting itself against the machinations of those who would be glad to see it overthrown and anarchy enthroned in its place. He fully upholds the right of free speech and constructive criticism, and admits that certain proposed measures for suppressing radicalism go too far. He believes, however, that vigorous action is necessary and that the evil the country is fighting will never be removed by argument alone. Said Mr. Palmer: "Citizens' rights should always be guarded, and I agree with those who criticized the Graham-Sterling bill on this ground. But I do not agree with those who object to the bill because they believe that acts of violence should be met with argument only and not by the firm hand of federal statute."

That will strike practical people as a fair view of the situation. The danger that has arisen is not to be talked away. The radical elements are not to be overcome by argument, however fair and convincing. They believe in force, have resorted to force and must be overcome by force. There is no other practical course open to the government, a fact that may as well be faced first as last. Mr. Palmer told the committee that only by vigorous action on the part of the Department of Justice had order been maintained to the extent that it has been, but added that there is no statute adequate to meet the present situation. "There is," he said, "a condition of revolutionary intent in the country on the part of both aliens and citizens, which is sufficiently widespread to merit the serious consideration of Congress. This revolutionary intent is manifested chiefly by threats, both written and spoken, by persons who would injure, destroy or overthrow the government by force or violence."

That this is so has been made painfully clear, and it is equally plain that the trouble is one not to be talked away. It is very real and must be met with a strong hand. He wants the rights of no man or class of men abridged, but demands that the necessary action be taken to effectually suppress the disloyal agitators and teach them and the whole world that, while this is a land of liberty, there is not here the liberty to plot against the government whose duty and purpose it is to protect the rights of all.

Attorney General Palmer correctly senses the situation, and the course he recommends will strike most people as safe, sane and sound.

The influenza has reached the city, but here as elsewhere the cases average mild and it is felt that there is no cause for serious alarm, though it will behoove all to exercise due care until the unwelcome visitation is a thing of the past.

Caravans of the Order of Camels are multiplying rapidly, but it looks as if it might be a long time before they will be able to develop thirst-quenching stations in the temperance Sahara that has been created.

Senator Gronna of North Dakota wants a bill passed removing the maximum on the price of wheat, which is only $2.26 a bushel. But of course Mr. Gronna is from the wheat belt. Senators and representatives from other parts of the country are liable to have something to say.

Harvard's victorious football team has been duly dined. But alas, under the conditions it could not be wined.

Hereafter on every Memorial Day an American flag will fly over the grave of every American soldier buried in France, and post flags will be raised in all the large cemeteries in which such soldiers rest. The boys who died in the World War will not be forgotten, even if their remains are not brought home.

President Stephen Grover Cleveland dropped his first name and President Thomas Woodrow Wilson followed suit. And this in an age when most people take pains to include all the names they have whenever they get a chance to squeeze them into print.

Boston is preparing to sell a lot of property at auction unless the tax accounts are squared forthwith. It seems strange that in these booming times taxes should be allowed to run behind so badly, not only in Boston, but in other cities.

The deportees appear to have every reason to be satisfied. They are reported to have received a cordial welcome, and certainly there was no lack of whole-heartedness in their send-off.

France is so desperate for daylight saving that it is going to have summer begin March 15. New England, which is notorious for late springs, should keep an eye on this experiment.

'DRYS' WILL ACCEPT 'WETS' CHALLENGE

Say They Are Ready to Meet Liquor Issue in Campaign.

New York, Feb. 8.—The prohibition forces of the country will gladly accept the challenge of the "wets" at the conventions of political parties. If they attempt to force a "wet" plank in the platform, Wayne Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, declared in a statement here tonight. The "drys," he added, "will back Mr. Bryan or any other man in public life who opposes the effort of the liquor interests to tie their outlawed traffic to any party platform."

"The united dry forces, representing all the national prohibition organizations," Mr. Wheeler said, "agreed not to ask the political parties to take sides on the merits of prohibition. If the 'wets' raise the issue they will start something that may change the plans of the 'drys' not to ask for a prohibition plank. It was decided to request the platform-committees to declare in no mistaken terms for law and order."

"The candidate or party that advocates this issue or declares for the repeal of the 18th amendment is doomed to fail."

Mr. Wheeler came to New York to address the Intercollegiate Cosmopolitan Club.

RUSS EMPLOYED BY AGENT TO CAPTURE SIX HUNGARIAN REDS

Vienna, Feb. 6.—Kischaut Dietsch, the man who is said to have engineered the kidnapping of the Hungarian terrorist, Schon, who was in refuge here, is charged by the police with having by the same means returned six other Hungarian Communists to Budapest. Dietsch opened a garage and one by one hired his victims to work for him. It is a short motor drive to the frontier and, after getting their confidence, he would propose a trip to a hotel for a good time. Then Dietsch would drive to the frontier where the gendarmes were waiting.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM HERALD READERS

Every day there comes to the editor of the Herald interesting letters from our citizens—away in the north or west. Their minds are on people and things at home. Here is an interesting letter from Colonel Pender who writes to ask the Herald to keep up its good work boosting the proposed road to Atlantic Heights.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 3, 1920

Friend Hartford: This is surely a great town. Business is at the peak, nothing unusual to have more than one hundred transfers daily. Property is bought at apparently exorbitant prices and again sold within a few days. At a handsome profit. This is no place for a third man in the real estate business.

"Somebody says," real estate offices, garages, hotels and boarding houses have the right of way. When I say garage I mean for the repair of autos, for a majority of the mechanics are never under cover. They run them into the yards, or leave them on the streets. At one of the hotels where the commercial travellers are cared for the street is lined with autos over night. The most of the commercial men travel in autos and believe me they are thick in Miami. I presume they make it a point to canvas the south in the winter and get rid of the cold weather at the same time. I find them from nearly all the northern states. The Chamber of Commerce furnish a band for daily concerts at $15.00 for the season. For several years they have had Fryor's band. This year a change has been made to Colway's band. Both bands have a reputation.

If you have a victrola and are looking for records you will find both band mentioned quite often in the list. There are three water planes in the bay, and the aviators are ready to take passengers for a fifteen minute spin over the city at fifteen dollars per hour. There is an air plane flying over the city every day doing some advertising for a real estate firm, and doing all kinds of stunts. He surely is an expert. Miami is on Biscayne Bay which you have to cross by bridge or steamboat in order to reach Miami beach. The bridge is the longest one undeniably in the states. We often think of the Hampton river bridge being a long bridge. One trip over the Collins bridge which crosses Biscayne Bay, convinces you that it would be just as well to compare Sagamore bridge with the Hampton bridge, as to compare Hampton bridge with the Collins bridge.

Both papers of the city are kicking about profiteers in the city. It certainly is true and if not brought to an end will tend to injure all concerned. It is usual in some of the hotels run on the European plan to charge and get six dollars per day for a room, in addition to any room in your local hotels. Have been here five weeks. Have seen but one bug and that of a species usually found in good old Portsmouth. Just a few flies and no other kind. If you come to Miami bring your well filled pocket book, your good nature, and be free from fault finding and pay what they ask. Do this or stay away even if you have to enjoy the ice, snow and bracing weather of New England and coast that road from Noble's Island to Newington.

Yours,

JOHN PENDER

She was 23 years of age and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Lougee of Gardiner, Maine, formerly of this city. She was a charming young woman, and her death will be a distinct shock to her host of friends. She attended school in this city and afterwards was an operator at the local telephone exchange until the time of her marriage. They lived in this city for a time and then moved to Kittery. Mrs. Colifton made friends rapidly and kept them by her pleasing personality. She leaves besides her husband an eight month old baby and her parents and four brothers.

The funeral will be held from St. Raphael's church in Kittery at nine o'clock Tuesday morning. Kindly omit flowers.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

A powerful discourse was delivered by the rector, Rev. Nelson Kellogg Sunday morning on the subject of "Sin," the text being Luke 8:5 "Some seed fell by the wayside." We are not guilty of great or deliberate sins, but our consciences are dulled and our senses hardened by indifference, careless habits and neglect of duty. Temptation comes to us in attractive garb and we do not realize we are in danger, though we readily observe all the faults of others.

The Girls Friendly Club will present a drama at the Parish House this Monday evening.

A meeting of the Vestry will be held at the rectory Wednesday evening.

ECLECTIC BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

ROADS STILL BATTLING WITH STORM

Sunday was a strenuous day for the railroads both steam and electric and shoveling snow and clearing away their every available man was taken on to tracks. The local electric road which has established a record not equaled along the coast for service during the storm, cleared the remainder of their line to Little Boars Head on Saturday night.

They had also to contend with the ice storm and Saturday night Sept. Bill Dowdell just as he was beginning to breathe easy received notice that a tree had fallen on Sagamore hill carrying away eight hundred feet of the trolley line. The power was cut off and he gathered a crew and made the trip down on the car tracks in his automobile and in three hours had the damage repaired. Cars were however kept running all night to keep the line open and Sunday the service was normal. Sunday night cars were run all night to prevent the ice from forming on the rails.

The Exeter and Hampton line have sent out notice that they will not attempt to clear the line from Little Boars Head to Hampton Beach and their service is practically suspended. Over on the Portsmouth Kittery and York line, Gen. Manager Meloon had every man he could hire shoveling snow for it is a case of shovel to get anywhere. The line is open from the car barn to Kittery Ferry and there is a section all cleared near Kittery. But not thru to Dover. The York line are just plugging with snow and will require shoveling to get this line open with traffic over the cars in some places. The ice storm added to the trouble and lines are down. The Boston and Maine railroad had their service more like normal on Sunday. The Dover branch was cleared on Saturday and as many men as can be secured are working shoveling. No freight was moving however. The street department is trying with a limited number of men to clear up the snow in the business district, but they made little headway. The snow is being hauled to the wharves and dumped but it will be days before the streets are any where near normal. About the city the walking is bad, as there is a fine disregard for the theory that property owners would shovel off their sidewalks. This applied to the city buildings and the walk about the Whipple school could well afford attention.

MONEY GOES WITH GYPSIES

New York, Feb. 8.—A score of Fifth avenue merchants in the superstitious habit of making good business better, have lost the money in their cash registers "disappeared" by gypsy women, but the immediate result was an appreciable loss, according to a detective sergeant, who arraigner in court today two gaudily dressed fortune tellers, Noble Mark and Mary Miller. This merchant, who appeared as a witness against the gypsies and told Magistrate McAdams that after his fortune had been told and mysterious money was made over the cash drawer, $10 had disappeared. Another merchant similar experience cost him $100. The women were held in $1000 bail, which was furnished by a surety company.

PORTSMOUTH WIN AND LOSE IN BASKETBALL

In the fastest basketball game played here this winter the Hunkley Hill K. C. professional team defeated the Portsmouth team by a score of 40 to 16 Saturday evening. At the same time the High school team defeated the Beverly High by a score of 45 to 18. It was the finest program offered the basketball fans for a long time and considering the weather there was a big turnout.

The Hunkley Hill team are the fastest bunch of basketball players that has been seen in action in this city since the olden days of professional basketball. They have all of the tricks of the old-time players and their floor work was excellent. They were also a rough proposition and in the last period they got away with a lot that was not basketball. Apparently they had orders not to take any chances with Castello and they detailed at least two men to watch him all of the time and a good part of the time they were holding him.

The visitors got the jump on the locals as may be seen from the first half of the first period they scored 16 to 2, but here the locals began to gather themselves and from that time on it was a royal battle, with the locals playing a great game and if they had been able to shoot baskets they would have won, as their floor work was fine. Murphy who was to have played, was snowed out of shape, which up to Sunday did not have to do. After the storm, but Castello played a wonderful game. He was all over the floor and despite the concentrated efforts to keep him from shooting he shot six baskets.

The game demonstrated the great improvement made in the local team and they fought every minute and with an even break could have expected a win. Referee Jack Thompson is in and unimpaired officiated and did a good job, although a little lenient on both teams in the last period which was a whitewash. It was anybody's game up to the last minute and the Boston players knew it.

The Harveys Newport team played here last Saturday night and they recently defeated the Hunkley Hill team of their own town, so that the locals will have their work cut out for them. The High school basketball team played one of their best games of the season, and easily defeated the Beverly High which is a good team, with good floor work. The local team has all kinds of good material and they went to the game as if inspired by the work of the professionals and played a great game, in fact good enough to have won any game of their schedule. P. Badger at center played a star game while Varrell and Averill forwards both were shooting fine and they were very much in evidence. They showed a remarkable improvement in their floor work.

The line up and summary of the games.

LOOKING THEM OVER WITH the SPORT FAN

Nearly all the fans who attended the basketball game Saturday night between Portsmouth and Hunkley Hill Council, are still hoarse from hollering. A more exciting game has not been seen in Portsmouth in years and the large number present were on edge every minute. It seems to be the opinion of a majority of close followers of the game, that if the Boston team had continued to play basketball as they did in the first period, instead of deliberately holding in the final periods, the Portsmouth team would have finished in the lead. However, both teams played fast, hard ball and it is probable that before the season closes the Hunkley Hill boys will again be seen on the local floor. Hunkley Hill's five will be up against a still tougher proposition next Saturday night in "Ho" Harvey's Newport team. Harvey's outfit recently handed a trimming to Hunkley Hill so it can be seen that the Portsmouth quintet is in form strenuous evening.

Earl Caddock, who plans to seek a return match with Joe Stecher in the near future, will do well first to take on Jim London, the Greek champion, as a preliminary to another meeting with the Nebraska. London is real anxious to hook up with Stecher, but will gladly agree to try conclusions with Caddock first and if Earl is willing a London-Caddock match will be next on the calendar.

Bill Moran, the former Kent's Hill twister, who started in at the University of Maine last fall and left, is now at Holy Cross and will undoubtedly be seen leaving town over for "old Jesus" Burket this spring. Moran should pick up a lot of baseball under the old general—Portland Express.

Several of Cornell's old baseball players, including Hugh Jennings manager of the Detroit Tigers, who coached the Cornell baseball team in the years when he was a student at the Cornell Law School, have been invited to return to Ithaca this month and assist in the launching of variety baseball practice. Jennings has accepted the invitation and will spend some time showing John P. Henry, newly selected baseball coach (the ropes).

With the Olympics coming this year it will be one of the greatest track years in the history of the country. To make an Olympic outfit from this country is the dream of every collegiate athlete.

When picking a trainer and track coach for the Olympic team they should not overlook George Connors the Exeter Academy track head, says a New Hampshire writer. No trainer in the country has developed the real top notchers that the Exeter man has. Big colleges of the country have been after the services of George but Exeter always comes to the fore and keeps him there.

SAVED AFTER THREE WEEKS IN ICE FLOES

Captain, Wife and Children
Taken From Schooner.

New York, Feb. 8.—Battling its way through the ice choked waters of Flushing Bay, the police boat Patrol today rescued the sailing schooner E. Jayno, which has been drifting for three weeks caught in the ice floes in the East River. On board were Capt. Henry Van Wely, his wife and two small children, who were suffering from lack of food and water.

The schooner, which is registered at 70 tons, and is owned by Charles D. Lathier of Somerset, Mass., broke from its moorings near Rikers Island about three weeks ago. Captain Van Wely said he had hoisted a signal of distress, but that it had been ignored by the many tugs which had been breaking ice in Flushing Bay.

Today's rescue was the second, the patrol has made during the past 24 hours. The sturdy little police boat yesterday landed 60 persons from the Old Dominion liner Princess Anna, which is stranded on a sand bar off Rockaway.

BOSTON MAN HELD IN CHICAGO MURDER

Tony Cifaldo Linked With the Death of Labor Feudist.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—The man who murdered Matthew "Boss" Enright, labor feudist and leader of Chicago's gunmen, was believed by the police to be one of the 15 men arrested yesterday after a stiff fight.

The black automobile from which the murderer fired 11 shots from a sawed-off shot-gun into the gunman's body was found and identified.

Tony Cifaldo, an ex-convict and an alleged Boston gunman, was held by detectives following developments which he said indicated his probable connection with the killing.

One week before Enright was killed, Mike Carrozza, president of the Chicago Street Sweepers' Union wrote Cifaldo a letter, according to information furnished the police and state detectives to come to Chicago to "do a job."

Carrozza, lieutenant to "Big Tim" Murphy who was Enright's rival in local labor feuds, is under arrest. Attorneys have promised to produce Murphy when he is wanted.

Cifaldo had been out of the penitentiary less than a month. He was sentenced for the murder of Nicholas Carrozza, who owed Carrozza $500. Cifaldo cut Carrozza's throat for $50, evidence submitted at his trial showed.

CUTTER OSSISPEE ARRIVES AFTER HARD TRIP

The Coast Guard Cutter Ossipee after one of the most strenuous trips in her career of battling with stormy seas, arrived at the Navy Yard on Sunday afternoon, looking almost like a wreck herself. The bridge was carried away, her bow stove in and she was leaning badly in her starboard hull.

The Ossipee was at the navy yard for repairs when she received orders to respond to the call for assistance to the Army transport Powhatan off Nova Scotia. The ship was under way in a short time and after a hard run reached the big transport disabled and drifting helplessly in a terrific sea and with a storm raging. The Canadian steamer Laurier, along with the transport Northern Pacific were standing by unable to do anything or get a line on board the transport. It was while seeking to get a line on the Powhatan that the Ossipee and the Lady Laurier were in collision and the bow of the Ossipee was badly damaged. She stuck on the ice and fought out with the other rescue ships one of the greatest sea battles to have a ship on record. Once the Powhatan was in Halifax harbor the Ossipee started south and while coming down the coast was instructed to go to the rescue of the people along at this point until they had broken up the ice barrier and then put for the harbor, disabled and leaking, but still afloat.

It is estimated that it will take ten days to two weeks to make the repairs.

everything possible done by the local boys.

Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alice Thompson at 73 Portland street, their daughter, Jessie Adelaide Thompson, and Ralph V. Warden were united in marriage by Rev. Leon J. Morse. Miss Annie Thompson was the bridesmaid and Robert Warden of Boston was best man.

The Dover Medical society held its monthly meeting at the Kimball house, Saturday evening. The topics of discussion were discussed, as well as most other things possible done by the local boys.

Exeter, Feb. 8.—At the regular meeting of the Exeter County branch of the New England Milk Producers' union, held here, Charles W. Barker of Exeter was chosen president and Leslie W. Dilling of Stratham vice president.

Exeter is still buried deep from the storm and country roads in many places in this section are impassable. The Exeter, Hampton and Amesbury service has been closed since Thursday, no cars moving in either direction.

The city damage reported from the storm was the collapse of a porch on the store of Edwin Collinsworth of Water street, which went down with a third from the extreme pressure on the top. Fortunately no one was underneath at the time.

The Exeter Woman's club is making extensive preparations for its convalescent show, which will be held at the town hall this evening.

There are many Americans who not only count their chickens before they are hatched but also count the eggs before they are laid. Like old Mr. Micawber they believe that something is sure to turn up. By following that system closely, they usually discover that what turns up is the bill collector.

The employees of a large manufacturing concern had a severe experience along this line recently. The management of the concern decided that it was thoroughly to their interests to have their employees contented and prosperous. There was no complaint about wages. Their employees were receiving a fair and equitable living wage based on present price and conditions. But the management wished to do something which would aid toward permanently improving the condition of their employees.

They could discover no better means for this purpose than to encourage the habit of thrift and saving. They proposed that this encouragement should take the form of a substantial bonus to each worker which would act as a nest egg in the nest of thrift. This plan became rumored about the plant and many of the employees instead of being encouraged toward thrift immediately went out and dissipated the bonus, spending it recklessly before they received it. When the management discovered this tendency they canceled the scheme for the bonus.

Any poultryman will tell you that it pays to collect the eggs promptly and that it is good business to calculate within reason and with proper allowance upon the results of the night's patience and the incubators heat and that even a hen is entitled to at least the encouragement of a nest egg, especially the hen that lays the golden eggs. Liberally handle your savings stamps and treasury savings certificates acquired by regular consistent saving use the nest eggs which encourage the fowl which produces the golden hen fruit. When you count your eggs and speculate on the products of a setting, be sure you do not take them from the nest. You may discourage the hen.

London, Feb. 8.—The present day middle class girl has been spoiled, she is too restless, pleasure-seeking and is egotistical, has a better time than any other woman in the world, but she is never satisfied, accuses a woman writing to the London Daily News over the signature "Victorian."

"The young married woman of today appears to think that she is the only woman who has ever had any domestic difficulties, or had to do any work," she writes. "The fact is of course, that she has a far easier time than women had in my day."

"In those days we didn't grumble a look upon ourselves as victims. We didn't talk about any 'revolt of housewives' or 'worry' our husbands to death with demands for a better time, or worked hard and cheerfully did without luxuries and expensive holidays and brought up large families without considering ourselves martyrs."

"The trouble is that the present-day middle-class girl is spoiled. Usually, she dislikes children, and resents having to give up any time to look after them. She would rather play bridge than hear a child's prayers."

"The more I see of the young married woman of today the more I hear of her constant grumbling, the more proud I am of being an old Victorian."

The recent snow storm has made much water in some of the cellars and so little trouble from leaking roofs.

BARRAGE OF CONFETTI

No Bride Present and Newly Made Groom Fights It Out Alone.

Confetti was flying about the depot this morning when the train from Woburn arrived and the barrage seemed to be applied wholly to a young man who is employed at the Atlantic city yard and a daily passenger on the train from Rochester.

It appears that he was made a groom on Saturday and his friends who ride on the same train dived on the bombardment, making the bride. They did a complete job. The groom is a returned soldier and admits that the defensive was more pleasant than that which he experienced in No Man's Land in France.

DAUM-ROSENTHAL

The marriage of Miss Jennie Rosenthal of Boston and Philip Daum of the well known shoe firm of Henshaw & Daum of Washington street, Boston, occurred recently in this city. The bride is of a well known Boston family. The groom served a year in the American army and received a sergeant's rating. The marriage was a quiet one and came as a surprise to the friends of the couple who are many.

REMOVED SNOW FROM THE STREETS

Extra Force Labored on Sunday in Business District.

The department of public works with several extra men and trucks worked on Sunday clearing the snow from the highway in the business section. The work was continued today and much of the frozen vapor was dumped into the incinerator.

BOSTON & MAINE HAS NO EMBARGO

Only Orders to Rush All Perishable Freight and Fuel.

A report started today that the Boston and Maine had ordered a general embargo on freight which proved to be without foundation. However, the company did issue an order directing that all perishable freight be given the first consideration in transportation and fuel to be considered next in freight movements.

Don't forget P. A. C. ball Friday night, Freeman's Hall.

NO MORE LIBERTY FOR THE MEN OF THE COAST GUARD

Must Confine Themselves to Stations During Influenza.

All members of the coast guard stationed on the New Hampshire coast including Wood Island and Isle of Shoals, will not be allowed any liberty from their respective stations until further notice owing to the prevailing influenza. This order was issued today by the United States Public Health service bureau. It is likely that all men connected with other stations in the district have received the same orders where the flu is prevalent.

THE HERALD HEARS

That the snowplows of the Boston & Maine railroad have given the company as much trouble as the snow on all parts of the system during the last storm.

That they appear to be too light for a heavy snow fall and continually get off the track.

That some of the snowplows on the Boston & Maine have not been snowplows since 1871.

That a crew of snow shovellers on the Maine Central railroad working between Bangor and Northern Maine Junction certainly had one perfect day.

That a large automobile came tearing along the highway near the track and some one in the car was seen to throw a sack of something into the snow.

That the shovellers hit the railroad and 21 quarts of Cornish whistley.

That the house number thought another car speeding up behind them were federal officers giving them a chase for the highwayman.

That the car behind contained a drummer and driver hurrying to catch a train to Bangor.

That the shovellers smiled and had several smiles during the day. Any more snow shovelled? Enough said.

That a number of the fire department at Woodland, Calif., is some technical.

That he has got the Portsmouth Herald who sleeps with his boots on, locked to the mast.

That the California man in debt and never misses a fire.

That he has invented a contrivance that pulls off the bedclothes at night when the alarm is sounded.

That his friends tell him where the flu is during the day.

That the much looked for Atlantic football team for the season of 1920 may be located, if a reward is offered.

That bay rum mixed with molasses and hot water is said to be the real thing at present.

That the H. B. club will take no chances with the product while the market produces something better.

That some men's houses were never kept so warm as this winter.

That they make no hint now about going to the cellar and fixing the furnace.

That the Dover women have been granted one day off in seven after much discussion by the city council.

That the police of that city who requested more pay were turned down by the police commission.

That the grand jury in the February term of superior court of Stafford county reported only eight indictments.

WINTER CARNIVAL AT DARTMOUTH

The annual winter carnival of the Dartmouth Outing club will open on

The musical revue is the work of Dartmouth undergraduates. A large chorus is being trained to furnish the musical background of the show which is a big undertaking for a college production. The carnival ball of Friday evening will complete the festivities. Ski-jumping will be an especial feature of the carnival sports this year. Several colleges are sending teams to compete in all outdoor events.

The case with which it disappears makes it almost seem as if the change we get when we break a bill is all in quicksilver.

Folks who do not like rain in winter are not the ones who have to shovel it off the walks when it comes in the form of snow.

Owing to the delayed train service on Sunday night the Boston speaker Ubaldo Gudi who was to open the Italian Victory Loan at the Colonial Theatre was unable to reach this city until 10 o'clock causing much disappointment to a large number of Italians and other residents who had planned to hear the speaker.

BRIGHT LAD—HANDSOME DOG—UNITED FAMILY

Master Cliff Saunders of Cass street, a bright lad, marched into the Herald office Saturday his cheeks aglow, and with a handsome collar pop wagging his tail and expiring about, "Here is a dog I found on the street," said the lad, "and I have brought him here to learn the owner." Quite natural enough that for the lad to do and in less than an hour the owner was located. How? Well, the lad left his name and address and at about 2 o'clock Mrs. J. J. Goodwin of South street called the Herald and said: "I have lost my young puppy dog. He is the handsomest little fellow you ever saw," and then she gave a description to have a lost dog inserted, but what a relief when the Herald man told her that her lost dog had already been brought into the Herald office. There was much rejoicing all around.
